

The background features abstract, overlapping green geometric shapes in various shades, including lime green, forest green, and olive green. The shapes are primarily triangular and polygonal, creating a dynamic, layered effect. The text is centered on a white background within this composition.

Sustainable New York

By Vani, Jackie, Ashok and Jimmy

The New York City Shoreline

- The shoreline should act as a buffer, but because it is so infrastructure heavy, there is no protection from potential storms or sea level rises.

Exploring Highline Park

Exploring Highline Park

- The High Line is a public park built on a historic freight rail line elevated above the streets on Manhattan's West Side.
- This landmark is so important because it is a perfect representation of green spaces in big cities. It also shows that communities can make changes when they rally together.

Gustorganics: "The Greenest Restaurant in New York City"

Union Square Farmers Market

- The market shows that residents of the area have the ability to get local, organic and affordable produce in the heart of the city.
- “It was a perfect example of how we can stay connected to our roots despite rapid urbanization. All things organic and the interest levels of citizens to support something like this is truly commendable,” said Karmesh Ghosh.

Union Square Farmers Market: Composting

Roosevelt Landings

- ▶ Roosevelt Landings is a residential apartment building complex on Roosevelt Island.
- ▶ It is the biggest collaborations of a public and private project to reduce energy costs and usage within the building.
- ▶ They ended up reaching their goal of 30% energy reductions by increasing the efficiency of their heating and cooling equipment's and making repairs throughout the building.

Roosevelt Landings: Renovations

Sources

- ▶ NYC 2030 Plan: <http://www.nyc.gov/html/planyc2030/html/theplan/the-plan.shtml>
- ▶ High Line Park Website: <http://www.thehighline.org/>
- ▶ Restaurant: <http://gustorganics.com/>
- ▶ Farmers market: <http://www.grownyc.org/greenmarket/manhattan-union-square>